Hunters should contact Pointer Outfitters within 60 days to reserve their hunt date.

At the time of booking, Hunters will be invoiced for their ground transportation to/from airport and lodge, hunting license, shotgun rental, and landowner fees.

Dates may be changed for up to three years without penalty should a reschedule need to happen.

When you discuss your hunting plans with your personal trip planner, they will help your hunting party with any additions you wish to add to your hunt. They will also assist with selecting the lodge that will best accommodate your trip of a lifetime while traveling with us in Argentina.

Gerhart Outdoors, with any International Adventure, recommends a travel insurance policy.

Pointer Outfitters reserves the right, with advance notice, to transfer groups to any of their lodges, and to accommodate non-hunting guests at an additional rate.

Prices are Subject to Change at Discretion of Pointer Outfitters without notice.
